Introducing Z5-ET

Z5-ET is the next generation of Zempat end tower units. The same look and functionality of the previous generation, Z4, but with more protection against electrical surges.

With an integrated radio module, it creates endless possibilities for in-field machine-to-machine communication.

Product Information

Zempat is the first universal remote telemetry unit truly designed to handle multiple aspects of your farming business. Acting like a 24/7 dedicated watchmen, the Zempat constantly monitors your operation to keep you informed on what's going on.

Combined with our modern portal, you can configure your operation to meet your needs. The FieldWise Portal gives you full access to your operation, including pivot monitors, probes and other equipment, all in a single app.

Choosing is simple, just like FieldWise. We offer cutting-edge technology at an affordable price, along with superior customer service.
